RIVER ROCK RIDGE

Phase II in Georgetown is now open

REMINGTON HOMES is proud to announce Phase II of their River Rock Ridge community in historic Georgetown. This much anticipated Phase II is a neighbourhood of stunning designs on 30- and 40-foot single lots, and beautiful freehold townhomes. Georgetown is the perfect location for both first-time homebuyers and families who want to be part of a community they can feel good about.

Remington Homes is known for innovative new home designs as well as a commitment to superior craftsmanship and customer care, so you can take comfort in your investment. Throughout their 16-year history of new home building, Remington Homes has earned the highest level of satisfaction from customers. In fact, designing homes that enhance Georgetown's beautiful architectural landscape is the kind of challenge Remington has already embraced with Phase I of fully detached homes in River Rock Ridge.

Phase II of Remington's new Georgetown community continues with their classic collection of fully detached homes on 30- and 40-foot lots that have won rave reviews from our Phase I purchasers. Peaked gables, porches and intricate masonry detailing in a variety of combinations will create streetscapes that are distinctive and charming while evoking a sense of tradition.

Craftsmanship, design and value are all part of the complete Remington package which includes many luxurious appointments that are standard, including rich ceramics, plush broadloom, vaulted and nine-foot ceilings, decorative columns, two-sided fireplaces, main-floor laundry facilities, framed niches and beautifully finished kitchens. These fantastic designs range from 1,480 to over 3,000 square feet.

Phase II also proudly introduces freehold townhomes. In this new release of townhomes, homebuyers can choose from several uniquely designed layouts that range from 1,480 to 2,110 square feet. These designs feature spacious nine-foot main-floor ceilings, main-floor powder rooms and eat-in kitchens. Closing dates are scheduled for early 2007.

Georgetown has been enjoying the spotlight as one of the top places to move to over the past couple of years. The downtown core of historic Georgetown has a thriving business area filled with delightful family-owned shops, restaurants and service-driven businesses. If your family likes the arts, you can take advantage of the famous George Eliot Theatre and its gallery where local and regional artists are showcased. And, if your family likes the outdoors, you'll enjoy a hike along the Credit River or a stroll along the quiet tree-lined streets.

Commuters have easy access to the GO train and nearby Highways 401 and 407. The town is conveniently located 15 minutes from the heart of Brampton and Mississauga, and 30 minutes west of Toronto. So transport yourself to a quieter time and lifestyle at Remington Homes' River Rock Ridge in Georgetown. 🏠
